KIN

Have you been affected by the imprisonment of a family member?

Could you use your experiences to make art and resources for other young people in a similar situation?

Could you contribute to making powerful change for other young people across Scotland?

Then KIN needs to hear from you!

KIN is for you if you are a young person aged between 14 to 24 who:

- Has experienced the imprisonment of a family member
- Can be an active group member of a small group of 10, helping to design the project
- Is ready to share your experiences and ideas for change - through art - to those who need to hear from young people
- Is open to exploring ideas through art of all kinds, and creating new things
- Can commit to 3/4 weekend residencies between September 2015 and July 2016, 4 all day sessions, and to working in between
- Is excited to meet new people, try new things, learn and develop your skills, and take part in an important project for young people across Scotland
